

WHAT YOU'LL LEARN AND PRACTICE

Poetry in America's Teach Together 2020 Webinar Series will offer real-time support to middle- and high-school teachers who are providing English Language Arts, History, Social Studies, and Art instruction to students learning at home. Led by Harvard Professor Elisa New, this four-part webinar series will provide content area and pedagogical instruction for teachers—as well as engaging materials participants can use with their own students.

Teach Together 2020 is built on the Poetry in America television series, and includes an introduction to core techniques offered in our full-semester for-credit courses for teachers. Webinar participants will receive materials and co-create lesson plans to be used with students now and into the future—whether you're teaching online or in the classroom.

Each 90-minute webinar will prepare teachers to lead four to five hours of high-quality instruction with their students over a subsequent two-week period.

Poetry in America, created and directed by Harvard professor Elisa New, is a public television series and multi-platform educational initiative that brings poetry into classrooms and living rooms around the world.

Participants will learn from and support each other in planning lessons and developing best practices for effective remote instruction—and for use of online materials in a variety of teaching settings.

WANT TO CONVENE A WEBINAR SERIES IN YOUR AREA?

Poetry in America is committed to providing affordable, high-quality educational resources to teachers and students everywhere. An overview of the Teach Together 2020 curriculum is available on the next page; webinar discussions can be tailored to participants' needs.

To request information about scheduling and pricing, please fill out this form:

<https://forms.gle/cmTjPQaH2ZpZkH9v6>

POETRY IN AMERICA

TEACH TOGETHER 2020

A Professional Development Webinar Series

WEBINAR CURRICULUM

WEBINAR 1 | Dreams Deferred: From Harlem to Hip Hop

- [Preview | <https://bit.ly/2KI7k6V>] Join President Bill Clinton, jazz pianist Herbie Hancock, poet Sonia Sanchez, and a group of students from Harlem in study of Langston Hughes's "Harlem," and then...
- [Preview | <https://bit.ly/2XS0mys>] Invite your students to study along with hip hop legend Nas and friends as they discuss Nas's iconic song "N.Y. State of Mind" and try writing their own hip hop lyrics.

WEBINAR 2 | Fast Breaks and Pirouettes

- [Preview | <https://bit.ly/2xCGvsm>] Join basketball stars Shaquille O'Neal, Pau Gasol, and Shane Battier as they explore the love of the game through the lens of Edward Hirsch's great basketball poem, "Fast Break," and then...
- [Preview | <https://bit.ly/3eFm3HG>] Join actor Cynthia Nixon, cellist Yo-Yo Ma, and poet Marie Howe as they explore Emily Dickinson's "I cannot dance upon my toes," a journey into what musical, theatrical, and literary performances all have in common.

WEBINAR 3 | Through the Golden Door: Immigration

- [Preview | <https://bit.ly/34Ovwlo>] Join immigrants and immigrant descendants, including American Federation of Teachers President Randi Weingarten, Grammy nominee Regina Spektor, and Dreamer Cristina Jiménez, in exploring Emma Lazarus's "The New Colossus"—the poem inscribed on the Statue of Liberty. And then...
- [Preview | <https://bit.ly/2XMhCVI>] Accompany poet Richard Blanco on an illustrated journey across South Florida to explore his classic poem of Cuban immigration, "Looking for the Gulf Motel." Enjoy a special cameo appearance by Gloria Estefan!

WEBINAR 4 | In Your Closet: Out Your Window!

- [Preview | <https://bit.ly/2XSTMaD>] Feel the excitement of New York Fashion Week as you and your students learn about the global history of a shirt—like the one you're wearing! Journey across space and time as you think about the art—and the economics—that go into making garments. Examine Robert Pinsky's "Shirt" alongside young fashion designers, as well as fashion icons Stuart Weitzman, Johnson Hartig, and Betty Halbreich. And, finally...
- [Preview | <https://bit.ly/2KmqgtfC>] Join young campers at a wildlife preserve in Cape Cod, MA, as they explore Galway Kinnell's "The Gray Heron"...and do some birdwatching! Consider the art and science of birdwatching—and of watching more generally—with scientist E.O. Wilson and landscape photographer Laura McPhee.

